ORTHO DERMATOLOGICS ANNOUNCES NEW APPOINTMENTS IN SOLTA MEDICAL BUSINESS UNIT IN NORTH AMERICA

Several New Hires Reflect Ortho Dermatologics' Continued Commitment to Addressing Patients' Skincare Needs with Comprehensive Aesthetics Portfolio

RALEIGH, N.C., Dec. 16, 2019 – Ortho Dermatologics, one of the largest prescription dermatology health care businesses in the world, today announced several recent new hires across its Solta Medical business unit. These business leaders will be dedicated to growing and expanding Solta's comprehensive portfolio of products to meet the aesthetic needs of customers and patients in North America.

"We are proud to bring this strong and accomplished group of leaders together to lead our Solta Medical business in North America," said Bill Humphries, president, Ortho Dermatologics. "Under Liz Panzica Newman, the general manager of Solta, I am confident that these individuals will positively contribute to our company's growth as we continue to develop innovative treatment technologies that provide proven and effective aesthetic care options for doctors and patients."

The new appointments include the following:

Liz Newman, General Manager, Solta, North America

A veteran in the aesthetic industry, Newman has held multiple leadership roles of increasing responsibility in marketing and operations. She first joined Solta in January 2018 as senior director, marketing, and is now general manager, North America at Solta. Under Newman's leadership, the North America region has made substantial progress, growing more than 25 percent in the last quarter due in part to strong customer uptake of Solta's latest innovation, the Thermage® FLX RF system. Directly prior to Solta, Newman led the marketing at Merz for Xeomin, an injectable neurotoxin for aesthetic applications. Earlier in her career, she was vice president, marketing at Zeltiq where she oversaw the initial launch of CoolSculpting in the United States. She also led the ideation and launch of Invisalign Teen to orthodontists in her role as general manager and senior director, marketing at Align Technology, as well as other marketing and operation leadership roles at Laserscope and Lumenis.

David Heagy, Senior Director, Sales, Non-Surgical Products

Heagy has extensive aesthetic medical device industry experience spanning a wide variety of sales and marketing roles. At Solta, Heagy will be responsible for capital and consumable sales for Solta's flagship brands, which include the Thermage® RF system, Clear + Brilliant® laser, and Fraxel® laser. Most recently, he was the west area vice president at BTL Aesthetics responsible for the successful launch of the EMSculpt device, a non-invasive procedure that helps people build muscle and sculpt their body. Earlier in his career, he was the vice president, sales, for Thermi Aesthetics, as well as the vice president, sales, for Zeltiq's Coolsculpting device. Heagy has also held several other marketing and sales management roles in skincare and orthopedics. Dave started his aesthetic career with the launch of Thermage where he was on the sales leadership team. It's great to have him return to where it all started!

Michelle Barrineau, Executive Director, Marketing

Barrineau joins Solta with almost 30 years of sales, marketing and leadership experience in the pharmaceutical, medical and aesthetic industries. As executive director, marketing, she will lead the development of the company's marketing strategies and positioning for the entire aesthetics portfolio of products. Before joining the company, she led the professional relations team at Dermira in support of the company's commercial launch initiatives. Her early career began with E&J Gallo working in sales and sales management. She then transitioned to pharmaceutical sales where she launched several acne, atopic and psoriasis products for Galderma and Stiefel before transitioning into marketing. Over the next 10 years, she held roles of increasing responsibility in marketing for both Stiefel, GSK and Merz. In each organization, she successfully developed teams to launch and manage programs across a range of therapeutic areas in the medical and aesthetic space.

Allison Calder, Brand Manager

As brand manager, Calder will support the sales and marketing efforts of the Solta Medical brand portfolio. She joins the marketing team with several years of experience in the aesthetic industry, particularly with over-the-counter and injectable products. Most recently, she supported the marketing efforts of the Mederma scar care brand and helped to develop a retail strategy that transformed the business on Amazon. While on the Mederma brand team, she also helped launch 12 new products which successfully gained both online and brick and mortar placement. Previously she was the marketing manager for Xeomin Cosmetic at Merz.

Heagy will be based in Hermosa Beach, CA, and Newman, Barrineau, and Calder will be based in Raleigh, NC.
